Ministry: Training leaders living near least-reach communities to multiply disciples of Jesus

More information: Global Disciples works innovatively to support the multiplication of disciples, applying a strategy tailored for today's world. Noting that two-thirds of all followers of Christ live in Africa, Asia, and Latin America, and recognizing that these Christ-followers live in the closest proximity to unreached people groups, they work to unleash the mission potential in these newer, dynamic, and rapidly growing global churches. Global Disciples accomplishes this by equipping local disciples for evangelism and church planting, utilizing a model that is both reproducible and locally sustainable. Our church partners with Global Disciples in Latin America, supporting the training of directors who, in turn, facilitate the training of people within clusters of churches. Global Disciples started in 1996 with five discipleship-mission programs in three countries and this has now multiplied to 3,142 training programs in 68 countries. Thousands of new fellowships of believers have been formed in unreached areas around the world through the support of Global Disciples.
